Legislative Summary.

SENATE—Thursday, Feb. 3.—Petitions were presented and disposed of, and a great many reports from committees were made and voted upon. A resolution authorizing the superintendent of the insane asylum to receive Charles M. Norris, of Daviess county, as a patient, was adopted. Mr. Norris recently wandered from his home in a state of insanity, and came to this city. A few days ago he went to the Senate chamber shortly after an adjournment, stripped himself entirely naked and burned his clothes. He was then taken to the hospital where he has since remained, although the superintendent had no authority to receive him. The object of the resolution was to gain time by avoiding the necessity of making a formal legal application from Daviess county. A resolution was adopted to go into the election of Agent of State on next Monday at two o'clock, P. M. A large number of resolutions of inquiry was adopted, and several bills introduced. The bill to appoint J. W. Cummins to adjust the three percent fund account passed—yays 33, nays 14.

Most of the afternoon was spent in committee of the whole on bank bills. The committee reported progress and asked leave to sit again. The bill to authorize railroad companies to connect with railroads in the or any adjoining state and to consolidate their stock was taken from the table and passed—yays 33, nays 2. The bill to prevent the auditor and secretary of state from receiving and filing any further applications for banking privileges was taken from the table and failed on the question of its passage—yays 11, nays 35.

HOUSE—Petitions were presented and disposed of. Reports were made from committees against changing the law establishing courts of conciliation; against changing the term of service of constables from two years to one; against reducing the per diem allowance of county commissioners to $2; against repealing section 109 of the criminal law; against dividing civil townships into districts; against prohibiting the filing of other bonds as the basis of banking; than those of the United States and the State of Indiana. Two bills to amend the act to provide for the appointment of supervisors, were indefinitely postponed. A number of bills were introduced. A bill for the formation of the 12th judicial circuit was laid on the table. A bill to amend the act in relation to damages by railroads in killing stock, &c., was reported from a select committee, with an amendment. Several propositions to amend were voted down. After an animated discussion, the previous question was called, and the bill engrossed—yays 55, nays 30.

In the afternoon, a motion to discharge the select committee on the bill to repeal the general banking law was rejected—yays 27, nays 30. A large number of resolutions, mostly of inquiry, was adopted. Several joint resolutions and bills were introduced. The bill to enable illegitimate children to inherit estates in certain cases passed—yays 78, nays 10. The resolution of the Senate to go into the election of Agent of State on Monday next at 2 o'clock was laid on the table—yays 32, nays 40.

Public Printing in Pennsylvania.

A bill has passed the Pennsylvania Legislature, to elect a public printer and to establish a bill of prices. The contract system has prevailed there for several years and has proved a total failure. At the last letting the contract prices for composition and press work were less than the prices paid to journeymen. To make up this deficiency the contractor put in for the blanks, at one dollar a quire, and then charged all the bills, and wages and noms, and fly leaves, and title pages, to the documents and laws, as blanks, and in this way increased the sum total of his allowance, to an amount above the regular prices; while at the same time it afforded the contractor an excuse for reducing the wages of journeymen. This shows the workings of the contract system.

Broke Jail.

Five of the inmates of our county jail, on Monday night last, succeeded in effecting their escape by means of an auger furnished by "outsiders." One, in leaping from the second story, injured his ankle so much that he could not even get out of the city, and was found next morning hid in a cellar near by. The others are still at large, but if they are not re-taken it will not be for want of exertion on the part of Sheriff Hunter. It will be seen from an advertisement in another column that he offers a liberal reward for their apprehension. The names of those escaped are James Dorrel, Stephen Cantwell, Josephus Hall, and John Reeves.

Broke Jail.

Wm. Howard, who was confined in the jail at Lexington, Kentucky, under conviction for murder of Henry Drishans, and was to have been executed on the 14th inst., was forcibly rescued by a mob on the night of the 30th ult. He has not been arrested.

THE ODD FELLOWS have purchased the property on the north-east corner of Washington and Pennsylvania streets, known as Hause's corner, now occupied by C. G. Elliott & Co., and others. The price agreed upon is $17,000. A large and commodious Hall, to cost $30,000, will be constructed next year.

Will Wonders never Cease!
At one time the whole scientific world was in a controversy on the question of the explosive properties of Saltpetre. After much angry discussion, the matter was dropped, and the rest of mankind remained in darkness as to the true result.

"Who hit Billy Patterson?" is a question in paganism which has never been settled. Great research and investigation has had without any satisfactory result.

Another question is now on the topic, which agitates all the financial circles of Indiana, and will soon reach Wall and State streets if not arrested by some satisfactory explanation. It is, who made the run with $1,000 on the Bank of North America, located in a rickety tailor shop in Newport, Vermillion county, Indiana. A committee is now sitting daily and nightly, clothed with extraordinary powers in the investigation of this momentous question. A great many witnesses have been examined—the agent has been tried, and it is supposed will be arrested to-day, and if any law can be found to punish him, he may expect to feel its full rigor. The principal is still behind the curtain. If it should prove to be one of the branches of the State Bank, the charter will be declared forfeited, and the concern wound up. His Excellency the Governor of the State is, we understand, implicated as an accessory before the fact. It is said, most positively, that he knew of the movements of the funds of this great bank to the amount of $1,000 in that direction, and never ordered the offender to be arrested. How could a bank with a circulation of fifty thousand dollars in promises to pay, which it never meant to redeem, be expected to pay $1,000 in specie. The tailor had no place to deposit such an amount, except the till of his tailoress, which was crammed full of cabbage. Gold and silver he had none. He is an honest pains-taking son of Eve, who mends his neighbor's pants, and performs the responsible duties of Cashier of the Bank of North America at Newport. We hope the committee will make a most searching investigation, and if the statute does not already sufficiently provide for the punishment of such offenses, let the legislature make it a felony, punishable by death, without the benefit of clergy. This will learn the honest, hard working farmers that rage are intended for the people, and gold and silver for the bankers, and if they haven't got it, then there must be no grumbling. They must be taught to understand the difference between a promise to pay, made by a bank, and a promise made by a farmer or a mechanic. One is a fiction, the other is a reality.

Free Banking Law in Illinois.

A bill to repeal the General Free Banking Law of Illinois, has been ordered to a third reading in the Senate of that State, by a very large majority. The Democratic members generally voting for the repeal. The banks already established have in many instances violated the law, and have been indicted by the courts, and the legislature is about drying them up.

Mr. John W. Holland, has associated with him in the wholesale grocery business, his former partner, R. L. Blythe, under the name of Blythe & Holland. Their stand has been removed to R. R. Duncum's new building immediately east of V. C. Hause's store. The Forwarding and Commission business is still carried on at their warehouse, opposite the Madison depot.

Marion County Agricultural Society.

An adjourned meeting of the Executive Committee and Directors of this Society will meet on Saturday, the 19th inst., at the Court House in this city. A full meeting is requested, as important business will be transacted. A selection of awarding committees for the next fair, will be made at this meeting.

New Converts in Luck.

William Wright, who turned Democrat during the last Presidential contest, has been elected Senator in Congress from New Jersey. He is a small, but honest man, and, as might be expected, a zealous Democrat. He is very wealthy.

Mr. Lovise, the delineator of Indian character, makes his first appearance this evening at Washington Hall. Also, the comedy, in two acts, of a "Nabob for an Hour," and the farce of "Pleasant Neighbor."

A typographical blunder occurred in a notice of the Jewelry Store of Messrs. Talbott & Allen. The name of Allen, was erroneously spelled Adler.

Wiley has postponed his ladies' sale on account of the weather until Saturday afternoon at half past one o'clock.

Meeting of the Early Settlers of Indianapolis.—At a meeting of the early settlers of Indianapolis, at the State House, on Monday evening, January the 31st, 1853, the Hon. William W. Wick was called to the Chair, and Hugh O'Neal was appointed Secretary; whereupon, Douglas Maguire, Esq., introduced the following preamble and resolution, to-wit:

WHEREAS, A goodly number of the early settlers of this city and vicinity, who saw the country in a wilderness state, and have witnessed its transition from its pristine condition to a populous and wealthy city and neighborhood, still reside among us, and are amongst our most enterprising and valuable citizens; AND WHEREAS, It is believed that it would be interesting and useful to have, at some future time, an assemblage of such old residents, together with as many others as may choose to participate, with a view, among other things, to recount early incidents, comment and strengthen attachments, and promote social brotherhood: Therefore;

Resolved, That a committee of thirteen gentlemen, of whom the president of the meeting shall be one, be appointed by the president of this meeting, to be appointed to make arrangements for a celebration of the early settlement of Indianapolis and its vicinity, and that they have full power to make all needful regulations as to the time, manner, and place of such celebration, giving sufficient notice of such arrangements.

Said preamble and resolution were unanimously adopted, and the Chair announced the appointment of the following committee to prosecute the same, to-wit: D. McGuire, James Blair, H. Bates, L. D. Dilling, M. Bolton, Morris Morris, C. Fletcher, R. H. Duncum, J. H. Ray, Daniel Vanden, Caleb Sander, John Williams, and W. W. Wick.

On motion, it was ordered that the proceedings of this meeting be published.

W. W. WICK, President.

The American Whig Review has been discontinued—Daily Sun.

A Case in Equity.
As near the lake I walked apart,
Climbing my beaten b'ore,
I long by chance a foolish heart
Upon the ground beside;
And that same heart by you was found,
While strolling o'er that fairy ground.

And still the baulk you retain,
Though valueless to thee;
Regardless of the secret pain
It loss occasions me;
My heart was all I had to lose,
Yet to restore it you release.

Now how shall we the cause adjust,
Or to what court repair?
I would not plead, if plead I must,
Without a hearing fair.
You have two hearts instead of one—
And I since yesterday, have none.

Were you disposed, wainight strange
Our claims with balance true;
You'd give your heart in fair exchange
For mine, released by you.—
And thus the cause of all my pain
Might prove to both a blessed gain.

The Winter Days.

Three summer months to warm the heart,
And then the chill fruits after;
Three summer moons to dream of love,
Some frosty days for laughter;
And then the South doth end its reign:
The North winds clip our dreams;

The shadow droppeth once again,
To end Love's empty scheming.
There is no strip of summer blue,
But winter clouds blow over;
There is no inch of sodden turf,
The white snow shall not cover;

No pleasant thing but has its end,
When sunny days are waning,
No note of music for the lyre,
But melancholy complaining.

J. Q. SAXE says many witty things in rhyme, and not always without a moral. Here is one of his "drives" at proud flesh:

Because you flourish in worldly affairs,
Don't be haughty, and put on air.
With insolent pride of station!
Don't be proud and turn up your nose
At poorer people, in plainer clothes,
But for the sake of your mind's repose,
That won't be a bubble that comes and goes.
And that all Proud Flesh, wherever it goes,
Is subject to irritation.

HALL OF REPRESENTATIVES, Feb. 3, 1852.

KENTON SENTINEL—Dear Sir: In the locomotive of last week I notice my name amongst those marked thus *, as having voluntarily promised to vote for Dr. Fitch. I never was under promise to vote for either Dr. Fitch or Mr. Pettit, but voted, in canons, for what I considered the best interests of Indiana and of the great Democratic party of this Union. WM. M. McKEE.

[From the Alta Cal., Jan. 1st.]

Winter in California.

The present winter is conceded to be the most severe experienced in this country since it has been populated by Americans. During the last fortnight it has been raining and snowing continually in the mountains and valleys; and we are daily in the receipt of accounts of distress and suffering in all parts of the State. The waters have been unusually high, and communication through the mining regions almost entirely cut off, either by snow or overflowed streams. The rivers have been swelled to such an extent as to inundate all the low lands, causing immense damage, destroying stock and agricultural products. The whole country between Tehama and Sacramento city was entirely under water, while Marysville was partly inundated, and though Sacramento city was well protected by levees, the lower portions were submerged. The waters at the present time have subsided, although the rains still continue.

On the mountain streams, the loss of mining implements has been great, and all work for the present suspended. Bridges have been swept away, and ferries destroyed, and some few lives lost. The southern portion of the mining district has suffered equally with the northern. Stockton has been inundated partially, and property to a considerable amount destroyed. The bridges on the Calaveras, Stanislaus, and other streams have been swept away, and communication with the mining towns, for a while suspended. The flood has been universal, and the waters higher than in the memorable winter of 1849.

The great scarcity of provisions, and the consequent high price, have occasioned much suffering and distress already, and it is feared that many will actually die from starvation. Many miners subsist entirely on beef and potatoes, whilst in other portions of the mines there are hundreds who have nothing at all but barley and potatoes. In portions of Yuba and Sutter county the snow was already ten feet deep and still falling, and the miners actually reduced to absolute want. In one place they held a meeting, and forced a trader to sell what flour he had on hand at forty-five cents per pound, and all who were able to leave did so, thus leaving the provisions for those who were unable to find their way through the snows to the valleys.

In some piney cañons are entirely covered with snow and the roofs of many have been crushed in, thus cutting off the last chance of protection. The accounts received may be greatly exaggerated—nevertheless, there is much suffering and distress, and it is not improbable that some may perish by starvation.

Canfield Coal.

Mr. Jamison, the agent for obtaining supplies of coal for the Navy, has made a report to the Department in relation to the Indiana coal, he says:

"The Canfield coal mines are on the Ohio river, in the State of Indiana. As my instructions required a particular examination of the mines in this region, I endeavored to get all the information in relation thereto within my reach. We examined several openings of these mines, which have been worked at a 'royalty' of mining privilege of one cent per bushel. The strata are about four feet thick, and formed of two distinct kinds of coal, the upper part bearing a strong resemblance to the Canfield coal, and the lower portion resembling the Pittsburg deposits. The upper portion is a light, chalybeate, free-burning coal, with little durability. When we left the mines, one hundred bushels were placed on board the steamboat, so that we might test it practically. The result was favorable to its use on steamers. Any quantity of the coal can be obtained with the greatest facility at the mines, at a price varying from five to six cents per bushel. The coal from the lower portion of the vein I selected to be sent to Pennsylvania, not knowing that the port for delivery was to be contracted for. I would, however, recommend that the period for the delivery be extended, so that a fair experiment can be made with the coal on board of a government steamer. The coal produced from these mines has been tested by the late Professor Johnson, and his analysis is known to the Navy Department."

Resolved, That a committee of thirteen gentlemen, of whom the president of the meeting shall be one, be appointed by the president of this meeting, to be appointed to make arrangements for a celebration of the early settlement of Indianapolis and its vicinity, and that they have full power to make all needful regulations as to the time, manner, and place of such celebration, giving sufficient notice of such arrangements.
